There are a few things in the book that I am going to look into making or have the hubby make for me!2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. I love this companyBy CustomerI love this company! I love the book! I haven't read it through but I have enjoyed the photos and the inspiration to get out and play in the dirt. The book is playful and sophisticated at the same time. I want to build a worm farm and sip a shrub...2 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Can't wait to start something!By Karla WolfeThis book is full of great ideas and pictures! Although I haven't done any of the projects yet, there are so many I want to try and the instructions look very easy to follow. I saw this book for sale in a gift shop and ordered via because the prices are so much better.

The Little Veggie Patch Company is a Melbourne based business that specializes in everything that encompasses the edible garden. From the design, installation and maintenance of home, school and corporate veggie patches, to everything you will need to care for them, they are dedicated to helping people learn the skills of how easy it is to grow their own food and have fun doing so, no matter the space, size or lifestyle. They also pride themselves on creating gardening-related projects that use recycled materials in new inspired ways that add a personal element to every corner of your outdoor space. The Little Veggie Patch DIY Garden Projects includes over 38 of their best projects for those young and old wanting to transform their outdoor living space. It is broken into 6 categories from Kids, Recycled/Upcycled, X-Factor, Vertical Gardening, Gardening basics and Kitchen, and includes a variety of projects for experienced handy folk to quirky ideas that will involve the youngest members of the family. Projects range from the incredibly quick and simple, such as a self-watering milk-carton planter, how to grow micro-herbs and milk-crate planter boxes to large-scale building projects such as making vertical gardens from pallets and how to build an ultimate playhouse from recycled apple crates. Complete with a collection of recipes for what to do with produce in the kitchen truly makes this the ultimate gardeners companion. Written in a personable, approachable style with stories to accompany each project as well as clear step-by-step instructions with colorful photographs to match, The Little Veggie Patch crew will inspire the green-thumb in every reader.

About the Author Dillon Seitchik-Reardon is originally from New Mexico, where he studied Environmental Science. He and Mat first met as landscapers installing in-ground Olympic trampolines and now work together as part of the Little Veggie Patch Co. team. This is Dillon's first book as coauthor. In 2007, Mat Pember founded Melbourne's The Little Veggie Patch Co., a business that specializes in the design, installation, and maintenance of chemical-free vegetable gardens for urban dwellers. He has co-written three best-selling Little Veggie Patch Co. books.
