Yu De Bei : The Lost Famous Painting in Japanese Garden (Chinese Edition) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Lost Famous Painting in Japanese Garden (Chinese Edition):

In the Japanese Garden which is located in the Zoological cum Botanical Garden, there is a famous Japanese painting called Matsuyama in Snow. The painting is really valuable and what's more, has a special significance. However, on one day in the late summer and fall, somebody sneaked into the Japanese Garden while it was raining and stole the famous painting. Yan Xiaoxue, Deng Di, Qiao Lei, Yan Xiaoyu and Zheng Fu find some clues in a flea market. Starting with a diary, the kids clear all things up and finally get to the bottom of the case. The suspect was actually the protector; the great painter was the thief.
