Paul Cooper : The New Tech Garden before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The New Tech Garden:

"The New Tech Garden is a celebration of gardens in which man-made materials such as plastic, perspex, steel, glass, and textiles have been used to create gardens more in keeping with contemporary design and lifestyles. Award-winning garden designer Paul Cooper has chosen the best examples of urban spaces for those who want an unconventional garden, or a garden for pleasure rather than constant labor.
