

[Download] The Place of Houses

The Place of Houses

Charles Moore, Gerald Allen, Donlyn Lyndon
ePub | *DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF

#620595 in Books University of California Press 2000-02-21Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 7.50 x .77 x 9.251, 1.41 #File Name: 0520223578315 pagesUniversity of California Press | File size: 62.Mb

Charles Moore, Gerald Allen, Donlyn Lyndon : The Place of Houses before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Place of Houses:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. about designing a houseBy brian maddenThis book gives the reader what architectural school gives the architectural designer learning to become architect. Namely what spaces in and outside of a house are really all about. After reading it helps the reader to design his or her own house. Or really understand how the Architect designs a house anywhere in the worldbrian1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. A Basic ResourceBy Thomas BakerWell documented and thoughtful. Worth rereading. I have recommended it to several people interested in understanding the thought underlying the design of houses.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy MCGA must to have

With a new epilogueRichly illustrated with houses large and small, old and new, with photographs, plans, and cutaway drawings, this is a book for people who want a house but who may not know what they really need, or what they have a right to expect.The authors establish the basis for good building by examining houses in the small Massachusetts town of Edgartown; in Santa Barbara, California, where a commitment was made to re-create an imaginary Spanish past; and in Sea Ranch, on the northern California coast, where the authors attempt to create a community. These examples demonstrate how individual houses can express the care, energies, and dreams of the people who live in them, and can contribute to a larger sense of place.

"For anyone thinking about building a new house, this is probably the book I'd recommend first. . . What's so great about THE PLACE OF HOUSES? It's the way it says, with rare eloquence, that houses are not about their architects."--
"Boston Globe
About the Author
Charles Moore (1925-94) was Dean of the School of Architecture at Yale, Chair of the Department of Architecture at the University of California, Berkeley, Professor of Architecture at the University of California, Los Angeles, and O'Neil Ford Professor of Architecture at the University of Texas. Donlyn Lyndon, Professor of Architecture at the University of California, Berkeley, has served as Chair of the Departments of Architecture at Berkeley, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the University of Oregon. Gerald Allen was an editor of Architectural Record when this book was written; he now practices architecture in New York. All three authors have designed noteworthy houses.