Patrick L. O'Neill : Virginia's Presidential Homes (Images of America) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Virginia's Presidential Homes (Images of America):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Awesome pictures and information. By Alan R. Great pictures and wonderful information all included in the addition. Always enjoy the Images of America Series. This makes about my 20th book in the series. 0 of 1 people found the following review helpful. One of the best books on Virginia presidents. By K. Hiseley Enjoyed the information in this book. Great format with details I had hoped to find prior to visiting the presidential homes. Even learned new facts about the Presidents.

Images of America: Virginias Presidential Homes takes a visual excursion to the homes of the eight Virginia-born men who served as president of the United States: George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, James Monroe, William Henry Harrison, John Tyler, Zachary Taylor, and Woodrow Wilson. Virginia, nicknamed the Mother of Presidents, is the birthplace of these eight men who were key to the success of the American Revolution, the forming of the U.S. government, the War of 1812, the annexation of Texas, the Mexican-American War, and World War I. Coming from diverse backgrounds and classes, their residences ranged from simple wood-frame structures to elegant, brick-pillared mansions and estates. Through images and drawings, this book will bring to life their homes and family life.

About the Author Author Patrick L. O'Neill is a professional historian and archaeologist, and he is the president of the Archeological Society of Virginia. He conducts research in the Virginia and Washington, D.C. region with projects including an overseers house at George Washingtons Union Farm near Mount Vernon, a well in the basement of Arlington House, the truncated 1785 foundation of Virginias State Capitol, Kittiewan Plantation in Charles City County, and Confederate graves at Bristow Station.
