Virginia Kroll : When God Made the Tree (Sharing Nature With Children Book) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised When God Made the Tree (Sharing Nature With Children Book):

Presents thirteen different tree species around the world and describes how they carry out God's plan by supporting people and other animals in a harmonious relationship.

Publisher's Marketing Association Benjamin Franklin Silver Award for Best Children's Book -- Multicultural CategoryAbout the AuthorVirginia Kroll does not do her writing in a secluded cabin or an ivory tower, but in her own home that bustles with the activities of her six children and other members of the household--including many pets. She is also a prolific writer, at least in the very early hours of the morning when everyone else is asleep. The strength of her compassion and perception come through in her four books published by Dawn: Motherlove, With Love to Earth's Endangered Peoples, Cat! and When God Made the Tree. As a child in school, Roberta Collier-Morales peered out the window at the trees and mountains, and filled the margins of her papers -- even her tests -- with pictures. when her teachers moved her away from the window, she learned to draw from her imagination. She graduated with a degree in illustration from Colorado State University, then taught art in both Colorado and New York City. Now a professional illustrator, she lives with her two children and an extended family in Colorado. She has illustrated With Love to Earth's Endangered Peoples and When God Made the Tree for Dawn Publications
